SUMMARY

A distinguished international law expert, economic researcher, and seasoned diplomat with over three decades of deep immersion in the Arab world. Having grown up, completed his foundational higher education, and established an extensive lifelong network of high-profile friends and influential professional contacts within the Middle East, he serves as an invaluable, elite representative and strategic bridge between Bangladesh and the Arab World.

Proven track record in driving cross-border economic synergy, successfully navigating complex international regulatory landscapes to attract foreign direct investments (FDI) from Arab financial institutions into Bangladesh. An expert in bilateral relations and corporate diplomacy who has extensively facilitated manpower export and managed humanitarian and social integration frameworks for Bangladeshi workers in the Gulf region. Combining a PhD in International Law, extensive background as an Economic Researcher at Dubai Islamic Bank, and profound socio-cultural roots in the Middle East, he stands exceptionally qualified to represent national interests and elevate diplomatic and economic ties to unprecedented heights.
